English 270 Notes
1/20/06
Class 1

Chris Barkley – cbarkley@palomar.edu
Office: P2-D
Hours: MW 9-9:30 1-2
F 11-12
Sun 7pm (online)

Note: She’d podcasting – don’t say anything incriminating.

- Bring in book next week to see if class wants to read (bring Pawn of Prophecy)
- Try to find Shapechangers between now and next week
- May 12 – Last Day of Class – bring in 5 novels you liked to share with class.
- Paper 2 is due, May 14th
- to reach online portion, go to daphne.palomar.edu/christine o Blog will be on blackboard portion of the site

Four Elements of Fantasy
1. Fantasy
   a. The characters
   b. The quests/adventures they go on
   c. Imagination
2. Recovery
   a. Seeing something familiar in a new way
   b. Mooreffoc (coffee room)
   c. Tolkien uses trees
   d. Recovering sense of wonder about the world
3. Escape
   a. Takes you out of mundane every day and into world of fantasy
   b. Point of contention among early critics
4. Consolation
   a. The story is resolved, the quest is ended