

forget not kill see no

How to Face a Dragon

By Garm the Dog

If you see his tail, bite 'im,
If he turns to flail, smite 'im,
If you get the upper hand
Drive the beast right off your land;

If he comes to stomp you, fight 'im,
If he wants to chomp you, blight 'im,
For wyrms may huff and puff
But they really aren't so tough;

If he tries to mash you, hit 'im,
If he wants to smash you, git 'im,
Just press the right of way,
The beast you're sure to slay;

If he drops his maw, smack 'im,
If he swings his claw, crack 'im,
But if he hasn't seen you yet
A place to hide is your best bet.